

sinclair's broadcasting of Stolen honor strikes me as extremely dangerous - and their claim of it being "news" as a pathetic attempt to justify their actions. This seems to be exactly the sort of thing that not allowing massive media consolodation was meant to prevent. After seeing something like this it is not hard to imagine the US media companies becoming like Japan's in WWII: government propaganda machines disseminating one sided messages purported to be "news" without most people knowledge of what was really happening. Obviously you know the end result of this. Please put a stop to this and undo the de-regulations that have allowed this to take place. Thank You.
